A dairy farm worker was pulled through a hole in the roof by a 440-pound bag of silage that dropped on him while he was working in a silo. The incident resulted in the death of a person who was not wearing a helmet. His family received a $2,475 fine.

Bulmoaro Contreras, 39, FATALITY 3/24/08, AJ Borba Holsteins, Stepped through a fiberglass skylight on the roof of a barn and fell 19 feet to his death. The ground of the field collapsed and falling 18 feet to the ground. He was cleaning the gutters.

Ray Veldhuis, 74, FATALITY 5/30/08, P & H Ranch, Inc., Crushed to death by a 150-foot-high manure spreader, which had a 12,000-pound capacity. The injury required three surgeries and two weeks of hospitalization.

No reports.

New Mexico: All dairy farms licensed to sell milk.

Oregon: All dairy farms licensed to sell milk.

Utah: All dairy farms licensed to sell milk.

Washington: 193 dairy farms licensed to sell milk.

Wyoming: 8 dairy farms licensed to sell milk.

ARIZONA

500 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

MONTANA

635 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

NEVADA

9 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

IDAHO

9 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

UTAH

2 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

WASHINGTON

193 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

WYOMING

8 dairy farms licensed to sell milk

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.

No reports.